Gifts of Real Estate Make Economic Sense

When you plan to make a charitable gift to your hometown, you should consider making a gift of real estate. There are several special incentives to encourage gifts of real estate. These benefits may include:

- The satisfaction of making a gift today that will invest in your Hometown
- By-pass of capital gains taxes
- Current income tax deduction
- Lower insurance and maintenance costs
- An immediate charitable income tax deduction
- Reduced management worries
- Reduced estate taxes and property taxes

Ways to Gift Real Estate

■ Outright Gifts

A person can take an income tax deduction for 100% of the fair market value of real estate held for more than one year. In addition, the capital gains taxes due if the property had been sold are by-passed when the real estate is gifted. The outright gift of the property reduces your taxable estate.

The amount of income tax deduction that can be used in any one year is limited to 30% of adjusted gross income. Any excess deduction can be carried forward for up to five additional years. For example, if your adjusted gross income for the year is $100,000, up to $30,000 of an outright gift of real estate given to benefit your hometown or favorite charities is deducted this year. Any amount over $30,000 may be carried forward for up to five additional years.

■ Gifts by Will

The most frequent way to make a gift of real estate is through your will. Your estate will receive a 100% charitable deduction for the full fair market value of the property with no limit on the amount.

■ Gifts of Property While Retaining Income

A win-win situation when you no longer want to own real estate, desire lifetime income and want to make a gift to benefit your hometown is to set up a Charitable Remainder Trust. The ownership of the real estate is transferred to the trust. The trust then sells the real estate and reinvests the proceeds to provide an income. By setting up a trust you can:

- Gain the satisfaction of making a gift today that will benefit your Hometown
- Increase your income for life
- Remove financial and personal burdens of property management
- Receive an immediate charitable income tax deduction
- By-pass estate and settlement costs
- Provide tax-free growth of assets inside the trust.
