

Ways to GIVE

When asked to make a gift to support the causes near to our hearts, most of us wouldn't hesitate to reach for our wallets. When it comes to making a larger gift, however, thinking beyond cash can help us make an even greater impact on the communities and causes we care about . . . not to mention provide tax benefits. Here are some ideas for outright charitable giving (that don't involve writing a check):

CHARITABLE IRA ROLLOVER If you are over the age of 70 1/2, you may make a qualified charitable distribution up to $100,000 from an IRA to a charity without paying taxes on the distribution. The gift may also qualify as your required minimum distribution. This is like receiving a 100% tax deduction.

APPRECIATED STOCKS OR MUTUAL FUNDS Making gifts of appreciated stocks or mutual funds has several benefits. First, if you have owned the property for more than one year, it can be deducted at its current market value. Second, a sale of appreciated stocks or mutual funds would generate a taxable capital gain. When you make a charitable gift of the stocks or mutual funds you pay no capital gains tax.

GRAIN/LIVESTOCK A gift of commodities allows a farmer or rancher to avoid claiming the sale price of the commodity as income and deduct the cost of production as a business expense. In other words, the gift can be made completely tax-free.

REAL ESTATE A gift of real estate that has increased in value since you have owned it has several benefits. First, if you have owned the property for more than one year, the gift of real estate can be deducted at its current market value. Second, a sale of appreciated real estate would generate a taxable capital gain. However, when you make a charitable gift of the real estate, you pay no capital gains tax when it is sold by the charity.

CLOSELY HELD STOCK Transferring business ownership, either at retirement or as an inheritance, offers unique opportunities and benefits of charitable giving. Not only does transferring your stock bypass capital gains and provide a charitable deduction, it also allows the corporation to buy back the stock.

ANNUITY The current value of an annuity is fully tax deductible when gifted to charity. The growth in the value of the annuity will be taxed as ordinary income and may be offset by the charitable income tax deduction.

PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE POLICY By naming a charity the owner and beneficiary of a paid-up life insurance policy, you will be able to receive a current income tax deduction. The income tax deduction is approximately equal to the policy's cash value or, if less, the premiums paid. Or, name a favorite charitable organization or community fund as the beneficiary of a policy.

Message From Our CHAIRWOMAN

Greetings to our Keith County Friends and Neighbors,

The first minutes of the Keith County Foundation Fund were recorded in March of 2001. Twenty years later, in 2021, the KCFF was privileged to distribute $327,600 to Keith County nonprofits and projects.

Over the past 20 years, dedicated Fund Advisory Committees (FACs) have been vigilant stewards of the unrestricted endowment and we are so grateful to the individuals who had the foresight to initiate the forming of the KCFF. We applaud the founders and the many philanthropic individuals who have donated to the fund and entrusted the FAC to decide how the money is given, guided by our mission and vision statements. The fund allows flexibility for future opportunities and will continue to grow and benefit Keith County forever!

Mindful of the great responsibility entrusted to us, our FAC has been building on the visioning sessions composed of interested community members. The sessions were implemented through the cooperation of Keith County Area Development, NE Public Power District, and KCFF. Our FAC is concentrating on Housing, Early Childhood Development, and First Impressions, the three identified areas of most need. Thank you to all the dedicated citizens who have come forward to work on these areas and to the above organizations for working together to bring the sessions to fruition. It is very gratifying to see so many like-minded people coming together to make our community a better place to live.

Building on growth and prosperity, a recent study by Nebraska Community Foundation is educating Nebraskans on the enormous Transfer of Wealth that is happening now in our state. NCF estimates, in this 10-year period in Keith County, $565 million will transfer from one generation to the next. Their suggestion to consider leaving just five percent of your assets to a local church, school foundation, or community foundation would make an incredible difference. Five percent of $565 million would capture $28 million dollars to benefit Keith County. With our mobile society, many times all the assets leave the community, and even the state, as dependents move away from their hometowns. NCF reminds us, "Once our wealth leaves the community, it is gone forever. Once our wealth is endowed in our community, it is here forever. The time to act is now—the opportunity will never be greater!"

I truly believe we all want our communities to thrive. Let us continue to work together for that common goal. I have witnessed residents of Keith County working to make their communities better! When one does well, we all do well. We cannot be everything for everyone so let us lift up neighboring communities and all work together to highlight assets of each area. Jeff Yost, NCF President and CEO, penned an article for the Omaha World-Herald in June 2022. Yost believes that three I's build hometowns: Imagination, Innovation, and Invitation. Let us challenge ourselves to invite and welcome potential residents to our community, encourage current residents to share their ideas, use our imagination to dream big dreams, and use innovation to implement them! ■

Abundance in KEITH COUNTY

Over the next 10 years in Nebraska, more than $100 billion will transfer from one generation to the next. In 50 years, that number exceeds $950 billion. This phenomenon has come to be known as the intergenerational transfer of wealth.

What is the transfer of wealth? Simply put, the transfer of wealth represents Nebraska's potential. It's the entirety of assets expected to transfer from one generation to the next in the coming 50 years—mostly from parents to their children. There is always a transfer from generation to generation, as parents pass away and leave their estates to their heirs. But if those successors no longer live where they grew up, that wealth may leave as well. Importantly, many Nebraska counties (including Keith County) are approaching or are already in the midst of their peak transfer years. In other words, there is real urgency to act now. The opportunity will never be greater.

Why 5%? We believe our Nebraska hometowns can thrive if only 5% of the transfer of wealth is contributed to community endowments through charitable giving. Over the next 10 years, that's $5 billion—in the next half-century the figure balloons to $47.5 billion. Think of what our communities could achieve with that amount of money!

If you love the place you call home, this is your opportunity to enrich its future. Would you consider leaving 5% of your assets to your community? Your gift will help ensure your family's legacy and help your hometown thrive. Visit www.fivetothrive.org for more information on the transfer of wealth and the many ways to give. ■

College Scholarships AWARDED

Nine Keith County residents were awarded scholarships for post-secondary education.

DANIEL DICKINSON was the recipient of the $5,000 Cliff and Ruth Hermance Scholarship. A 2022 Ogallala High School graduate, Dickinson is continuing his education at the University of California, Irvine, majoring in psychology. The Hermance scholarship, established in 2002, is given to an Ogallala High School graduating senior who plans to attend a four-year college. Preference is given to a student pursuing a career in education.

The Berryman Education Account was bequeathed to KCFF from the estate of Charles Wilton "Bud" Berryman in 2012. It provides scholarships for Keith County residents pursuing post-secondary education. Scholarship funds must be used to pursue a continuing education course, a degree or a certificate program at a public accredited community college or an accredited degree-granting college or university. The KCFF Scholarship Committee selected eight recipients for the Berryman scholarship, ranging from $500 to $3,600, with a total disbursement of $11,100:

- SAMANTHA BYRD, a history major, is a senior at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL).
- RACHEL ORTH, a UNL junior, is majoring in biological sciences, with minors in psychology and biochemistry.
- MAGGIE O'NEIL is enrolled in the transitional teaching certificate program at the University of Nebraska- Kearney.
- ALEXANDRA COFFMAN is studying nursing at Chadron State College (CSC).
- JENNIFER COGGINS is pursuing a degree at CSC to become a licensed mental health practitioner.
- Also attending CSC, JENNIFER FOSBINDER is studying business administration with an accounting focus.
- LAUREN FRANKLIN is completing her general studies at Mid-Plains Community College (MPCC), with an emphasis in business and graphic design.
- JENNIFER KUGLER is pursuing an Associate of Applied Science degree in graphic design and visual communication at MPCC, as well as certification in business administration and marketing. ■

*Energizing Entrepreneurial Ecosystems

Peter Kiewit Foundation Partners with Big Give to EXPAND IMPACT

The success of the 2021 Keith County Big Give got the attention of the Peter Kiewit Foundation. Their mission, “to build engaged citizens and thriving communities,” is nearly a perfect match to the mission of the Keith County Big Give organization, “to make Keith County a better place to live, work and play.” To further both missions, the Peter Kiewit Foundation encouraged the Big Give committee to submit a grant request. The result was a partnership between Keith County Big Give and the Peter Kiewit Foundation.

The goal is to expand the impact of the Big Give and make it more sustainable. The Big Give committee will hugely expand their marketing efforts and the Peter Kiewit Foundation will fund that effort.

Peter Kiewit provided $10,000 for administrative expenses in 2022 to be matched by $10,000 for administrative expenses from the Keith County Foundation Fund. They further provided $15,000 for an advertising campaign to be matched by local sponsors. Both matching requirements were achieved, and the result was an advertising campaign. “In my totally biased opinion, the campaign should have made everyone in Keith County aware of the Big Give 2022 effort,” said Big Give Chair, Ken Snyder.

In addition, the second part of the grant continues the partnership through 2023 with $10,000 for administrative expenses and $15,000 for advertising. In total, that is a $50,000 grant from the Peter Kiewit Foundation. The Big Give committee feels that two years of advertising at this level will make such an impression to establish the Big Give as part of the fabric of the community.

The committee wishes to thank the Peter Kiewit Foundation for their support and partnership to expand the Big Give campaign. ■

Building a Better Community Through THE BIG GIVE

Once again, the Keith County Big Give fundraising event empowered and supported local charitable organizations. The total contributions this year far exceeded expectations, raising over $200,000 for participating groups. With donations as small as $5 and as large as $23,000, total gifts increased by over $60,000 from 2021. Local generosity helps participating charities continue making a difference in our community.

Thirty organizations took part in the second year of this now annual fundraising event. Participating organizations presented unique project ideas designed to provide programming or services to benefit the people of Keith County. The groups reached out to previous donors and promoted their projects. In addition, the Big Give Event offered increased visibility and the chance to make an impression on donors who may not have been aware of a particular group or its mission.

Savvy donors maximized their giving power by choosing to make tax-deductible charitable donations during the event which ran June 11–18. Donations were enhanced by over $48,000 in matching funds provided by Keith County Foundation Fund and other sponsors. Gifts could be made online, through the mail, or at area drop boxes. Donors had the option of giving to an individual group or spreading their gift among several organizations. Donors could also “Love Them All” and donate to everyone.

The philosophy behind Big Give is to empower area non-profits to be involved in their fundraising. In partnership with Keith County Big Give and KCFF, groups utilized a set of tools designed to foster success. The resources available to groups included an organized marketing campaign, media ads, and a website where they were encouraged to be as creative as possible to get their message across.

Planning for the event is a year-long process. Ken Snyder, Chair of Keith County Big Give, was pleased with this year’s success. “Big Give 2022 fulfilled its purpose which is to make our community a better place to live, work and play. We raised a significant amount of funding for 30 organizations. We created a lot of goodwill between the organizations and the community. We created a can-do spirit and an attitude of achievement in the community. There was a lot of cooperation and collaboration. A lot of volunteers did a lot of work together,” said Snyder.

Members of the Big Give Committee included Jon Holzfaster, Mandy Hoover, Caitlin Fuller, Laura Kemp, Shelly Witt, and Richard Johnson. Snyder voiced strong praise for the committee. “Without exaggeration, I consider this the best committee in Nebraska volunteer work,” he said.

Planning has already started for next year. The goal of building the best place to live, work, and play continues, and takes the entire community working together. As Snyder says at each meeting, “The good we can do together far surpasses the good we can do alone.” ■

Growing OUR OWN

Miah Hoppens, Keith County Foundation Fund 2022 Hometown Intern, has a lot of ideas. But more importantly, she puts in the work to make those ideas realities. When she began her summer internship, she wasn’t entirely comfortable with the unstructured freedom of the job. But after a couple of weeks, she found that the agency and leeway she had been given made her believe in herself and what she could accomplish. With each success, she felt validated and taken seriously.

The Hometown Intern Program, facilitated through Nebraska Community Foundation, offers college students career-building opportunities and connections to their hometown. Interns are guided by Fund Advisory Committee members who supervise and mentor them, focusing on projects specific to their local community goals and personalized to the interests and skillsets of each intern.

Hoppens’ summer internship included traveling the state, learning how Nebraska towns have transformed themselves by addressing small-town challenges through innovation, connection, and unconventional solutions. Keith County projects she undertook included promoting the Mid-Plains Community College Keith County Youth Entrepreneurship Competition; working with Keith County Area Development (KCAD) by surveying local businesses about Energizing Entrepreneurial Ecosystems (E3); advocating for a youth-led podcast; and continuing the asset mapping of residents around Lake McConaughy initiated by last year’s KCFF intern, Rachel Orth. Hoppens and Orth also wrote a series of articles which were published in the Keith County News.

The highlight of Hoppens’ summer came when she presented the idea for a new entrepreneurial position to the board of KCAD. Hoppens pitched the benefits of a new employee who would spearhead growing the Keith County entrepreneurial community, connect businesses to available resources and build a mentor network for local entrepreneurs. She said the ripple effect of so many people being touched by her work gives her goosebumps.

“I like being part of the solution instead of just complaining,” Hoppens said. She said her internship experience has been 100 percent positive. She didn’t realize it when she started with KCFF, but now she knows she can be a mover and a shaker. She has demonstrated she can make a positive difference in her community. After completing her education, Hoppens wants a career and a life in western Nebraska. ■

Youth Inspired PHILANTHROPY

The second year of the Youth Inspired Philanthropy program (YIP), featured six impactful projects, implemented by a host of Keith County youth. Led by Barb Jeffres and Mary Jensen, each group was awarded up to $1,000 to carry out their project to make a positive difference in Keith County.

■ The NEBRASKA WEST VOLLEYBALL GROUP applied for a grant to complete last year’s idea to build sand volleyball courts. The net system and out-of-bounds systems will finish their master plan.

■ UPLIFT UNLIMITED by Alexis Gerih helped to support those living in the nursing home in Keith County by distributing holiday cards and treats for staff and residents.

■ The FOOD PANTRY PROJECT was carried out by Collins Cone, who collected money and food donations to help stock the local food pantry.

■ The AQUA POOL ACCESS CHAIR PROJECT was implemented by the Ogallala High School Interact Club. They purchased a waterproof wheelchair for the new splash pad, making it accessible to everyone.

■ The Ambassadors from Prairie View School, placed a BUDDY BENCH on the playground. Rules for the bench and a book explaining its purpose were given to all grade levels at the school.

■ The Ogallala FFA group used their funds for the KEITH COUNTY SENIOR CENTER LANDSCAPE PROJECT. The north area of the building was cleaned up and landscaped.

The Fund Advisory Committee of KCFF thanks all the youth, their mentors, Mrs. Jensen and Mrs. Jeffres for making our community a better place.

Improving First IMPRESSIONS

First Impressions, (curb appeal), was identified as a top priority for Keith County during the 2020 Community Vision Planning sessions facilitated by Keith County Area Development and KCFF. The following projects have been accomplished in Ogallala with grant support from KCFF.

Horse tank planters were placed in the Downtown Alleyway Park this past spring.

A new mural was completed on the west wall of the Underpass Bar and Grill. The mural committee felt the design created a connection with Keith County’s historic past and Lake McConaughy.

Hanging baskets of bubblegum petunias were installed on downtown lamp posts.

New hard, native-species shrubs and plants were planted by the “Welcome to Ogallala” mural by the overpass.
